and that Misamis Occidental II Electric Cooperative, Inc. approved and applied Policy No. 216, S-99 as the Upgraded Retirement Plan for its employees and officials which provides retirement and gratuity benefits.

In reply, please be informed that Section 32 (B) (6) (a) of the National Internal Revenue Code of 1997, as amended, states that:

"Section 32. Gross Income. —

(B) Exclusions from Gross Income. — The following items shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from taxation under this Title:

xxx xxx xxx

(6) Retirement Benefits, Pensions, Gratuities, etc. —

(a) Retirement benefits received under R.A. 7641 and those received by officials and employees of private firms, whether individual or corporate, in accordance with a reasonable private benefit plan maintained by the employer: Provided, that the retiring official or employee has been in the service of the same employer for at least ten (10) years and is not less than fifty (50) years of age at the time of his retirement: . . ., shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from taxation." (Underscoring supplied)

Based on the above-quoted provision, if the company maintains a private retirement plan which have been determined by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) as a "reasonable retirement benefit plan," the retirement benefits that will be received by the employees shall be exempt from income tax, provided that the two (2) conditions are met, viz.: (1) the employee had been in the service of the same private firm for at least ten (10) years; and (2) he is at least fifty (50) years old at the time of retirement. However, even if the company maintains a retirement plan but was not approved by the BIR as a "reasonable retirement benefit plan," the provisions of Republic Act (RA) No. 7641 shall apply. Section 1 of RA No. 7641, amending the Labor Code of the Philippines, provides:

"Section 1. Article 287 of Presidential Decree No. 442, as amended, otherwise known as the Labor Code of the Philippines, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Art. 287. Retirement. — Any employee may be retired upon reaching the retirement age established in the collective bargaining agreement or other applicable employment contract.

In case of retirement, the employee shall be entitled to receive such retirement benefits as he may have earned under existing laws and any collective bargaining agreement and other agreements: Provided, however, that an employee's retirement under any collective bargaining and other agreements shall not be less than those provided herein.

In the absence of a retirement plan or agreement providing for retirement benefits of employees in the establishment, an employee upon reaching the age of sixty (60) years or more, but not beyond sixty-five (65) years which is hereby declared the compulsory retirement age, who has served at least five (5) years in the said establishment, may retire and shall be entitled to retirement pay equivalent to at least one-half (1/2) month salary for every year of service, a fraction of at least six (6) months being considered as one whole year." (Underscoring supplied)

Under Section 1 of RA No. 7641, in the absence of an approved reasonable retirement plan providing for retirement benefits of employees in the establishment, the retirement benefits that will be received by the employees shall be exempt from income tax, provided that the two (2) conditions are met, viz.: (1) the employee had been in the service for at least five (5) years; and (2) he is at least sixty (60) years old but not beyond sixty-five (65) years old at the time of retirement.

In the instant case, considering that Policy No. 216, S-99, the Upgraded Retirement Plan of Misamis Occidental II Electric Cooperative, Inc. for its employees and officials which provides retirement and gratuity benefits, was not determined or approved by the BIR as a "reasonable retirement benefit plan," the requirements under Section 1 of RA No. 7641, in order that the employee benefits received may be granted tax exemption must be present, to wit: (1) the employee had been in the service for at least five (5) years; and (2) he is at least sixty (60) years old but not beyond sixty-five (65) years old at the time of retirement. Thus, only the retirement benefits of AAA, CCC, and DDD shall be excluded from their gross income and shall be exempt from taxation.

Please take note also that pursuant to Section 2.78.1 (A) (7) of Revenue Regulations (RR) 2-98, as amended, the terminal pay, i.e., commutation and payment of monetized unused vacation leave credits not exceeding ten (10) days during the year are not subject to income tax and consequently to the withholding tax. Conversely, the cash equivalent of vacation leave exceeding ten (10) days is subject to tax. However, this same principle cannot apply to sick leave credits since an employee must actually go on sick leave to be able to avail of said leave credits. (BIR Ruling No. 231-2016 dated June 1, 2016)

It is must be also understood that the payment to the retiring employees of their salaries, except if minimum wage earners, and the payment of the 13th month pay and other benefits in excess of the Php82,000.00 [1] threshold shall be subject to income tax, and consequently to withholding tax, under Section 2.78.1 (A) (3) (a) and (A) (7) of RR 2-98, as amended. (BIR Ruling No. 231-2016 dated June 1, 2016)

With regard to the retirement benefits received by BBB, FFF, and EEE, it shall be subject to the appropriate taxes under the National Internal Revenue Code of 1997, as amended, as they are below sixty (60) years old at the time of their retirement.

This ruling is being issued on the basis of the foregoing facts as represented. However, if upon investigation it will be disclosed that the facts are different, then this ruling shall be considered null and void.

Very truly yours,

(SGD.) CAESAR R. DULAY
Commissioner of Internal Revenue
